

Project Profile

University of Tulsa - John Rogers Hall
Tulsa, OK

System Features

With a monetary gift from the Chapman Charitable Trusts and a desire to increase the school's competitive edge, enhance student learning and assist faculty recruitment, a series of interior renovations were completed on the John Rogers Hall.

- Digital media systems are in seven classrooms with one central system that switches feeds to and from each of the classrooms and an existing courtroom system
- A green light system that has one centrally located processor controls the dimmer panels for six classrooms and the law dean's conference room
- A 2 x 2 video wall is featured in "The Pit," a multipurpose area, that can either display feeds from the courtroom system or digital signage information
- Each classroom has desk-mounted microphones for students
