Polycom and Microsoft are long-term partners who create high-quality video solutions that make your Microsoft business meetings work. With native Skype integration, the Group Series codecs bring together enterprise-grade reliability with the convenience of web conferencing.

If you plan to collaborate with other Skype users, whether standards-based or not, consider Microsoft's Skype Rooms. Join meetings with one touch and securely erase all user data before the next meeting starts. Ford is a licensed reseller of the Surface Hub and Skype Room Systems.

If you don't like seeing the conference room mic(s) on the table, Shure's new array microphone can clearly pick up participants from overhead while maintaining aesthetics in your meeting space.
